

The Master of Divinity (MDiv) program is designed for men and women preparing for pastoral ministry, chaplaincy, teaching, and other related careers. Graduates of this program will be able to produce graduate level biblical and theological reflection from an Apostolic Pentecostal tradition that is in conversation with the context of broader Christianity, engage with diverse contexts in which ministry occurs using multiple theoretical perspectives, develop in the practice of ongoing Spiritual Formation, and practice a breadth of pastoral competencies in accordance with the nature of the student's calling. The MDiv can be completed with as little as three years of full-time study and up to eight years of part-time study.
